SolarWorld Industries is new – SolarWorld quality remains!

Dear customers and partners of SolarWorld,

With a feat of strength, we have secured the preservation of Europe's most modern production facilities for solar products. With the acquisition by SolarWorld Industries GmbH, technology and expertise will remain in Germany. The new SolarWorld will focus exclusively on the production of highly efficient mono-PERC cells and modules, as well as on particularly high-quality bifacial glass-glass modules.

In recent weeks we have received a great deal of encouragement to undertake the relaunch of SolarWorld. It is clear to us that a great deal has been demanded of you as a customer over the past few months. We were therefore all the more pleased that we have already received many orders upon the relaunch.

Somewhat more than 500 of SolarWorld's specialists embarked on the journey with SolarWorld Industries GmbH last week, and more than 10 percent of employees will work in research. This also ensures future development and the implementation of innovations in ever-better products.

As usual, all our products are distinguished by their especially high durability and quality. High-quality materials and production in the world's most automated solar industry production facility are the basis upon which we will continue to offer you the usual guarantees.

Please accept our offer to continue our faithful partnership and support our relaunch. Together we are proving that solar technology "Made in Germany" is the quality promise in Germany and Europe!

Yours sincerely,
